ANNUAL REPORT 2017-18

MICROFINANCE INSTITUTIONS NETWORK

MFIN annual report has in its past three editions has been using traditional art forms such as Warli, Madhubani and now Gond art to showcase traditional art forms that women have been using to express themselves and their surroundings. This has a resonance with the microfinance sector that has always tried to encourage women to express themselves and become self-reliant. This edition of the Annual Report has Gond illustrations. This is a form of painting that is practiced by one of the largest tribes in India with whom it shares its name. Gond comes from the Dravidian expression, Kond which means 'the green mountain'.

While Gond paintings are considered to be predominantly from Madhya Pradesh, they are also quite common in Andhra Pradesh, Maharashtra, Chhatisgarh and Odisha. The Gond people have a belief that viewing a good image begets good luck. This belief led the Gond people to decorate the walls as well as the floor of their houses with traditional tattoos and motifs.

Greetings!

The yin and yang of Microfinance is outreach and sustainability. This was demonstrated in the year 2017-18, when we witnessed a 40% increase in equity investments with a 25% increase in the number of clients at 2.5 crores.

As per the MFIN Micrometer, NBFC MFI's disbursed 2.6 crore loans worth Rs. 59,629 crores in 2017-18 which is an increase of 49% over the previous fiscal year.

Investors' confidence in the sector is an encouraging sign for MFI's to expand their reach and operations. The key reasons for growth has been the adaptability to constant change & resilience in the face of challenges that NBFC-MFIs have shown.

This year, the emphasis should be more on the relationship between responsible lending and outreach. The focus should be on providing more services to the clients while maintaining the financial and operational sustainability of the MFI's.

Technology is the biggest enabler when it comes to making financial services available in the remotest part of the country. The industry is moving towards cashless transactions and automation, which in future would reduce the transaction costs and risk of frauds.

I take this opportunity in extending my heartiest congratulations to the winners of MFIN Annual Awards 2018: In Pursuit of Excellence! who despite of challenges contributed to the growth of the sector and in implementing best practices.

Rakesh Dubey
President, MFIN

About MFIN

Microfinance Institutions Network is the industry body for RBI regulated NBFC-MFIs. Established in October 2009, MFIN was appointed as the Self-Regulatory Organisation (SRO) for the sector by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on 16th June 2014.

MFIN through its members, enables access to financial services to low income households in a responsible & transparent manner, thereby helping them build sustainable livelihoods. MFIN also works closely with regulators and other instrumental in creating and implementing key stakeholders in promoting financial inclusion. MFIN has been supporting an effective framework for responsible lending and client protection for the industry.

Microfinance Industry In India

Microfinance in India started in the late 1980s in response to the gap in availability of formal sources of credit and lending to the underserved and low-income population. Most of the institutions that forayed into the sector were from the social sector and hence the legal entities comprised Trusts, Societies or Section 25 Companies. As the industry continued to grow, the non-profit form became a limiting factor in making these institutions sustainable and scalable. Based on the recommendations of the Malegam Committee, January 2011, RBI created a new subset under the Non-Banking Finance Companies (NBFCs) for institutions specialising in microfinance and called them NBFC-MFIs. In the decade leading up to 2009, the NBFC-MFI model proved itself to be viable and a sustainable means of providing access to finance to meet the requirements of low income households.

NBFC-MFIs have been playing a significant role in taking forward the financial inclusion vision of the Government of India. What sets the NBFC-MFIs apart is the fact that they do not depend on grants or subsidies to provide unsecured loans to people with low incomes and with negligible access to the banking system. As on 31st March 2018, NBFC-MFIs provided credit to over 2.53 crores clients in India, with a total lending more than Rs. 48,094 crores.

Voices from Associates

ESAF's stand for the upliftment of the downtrodden and a platform to connect with like-minded individuals is truly worthwhile. In order to frame meaningful strategies on financial inclusion a cooperative approach is the need of the hour and that is what MFIN is providing as a platform. Also, I would like to applaud MFIN on its ability to implement damage control mechanisms. It is great to be part of MFIN and we look forward to a long standing association with the Organization.

MFIN's work in policy advocacy is truly unprecedented. It has been a pioneer in creating a knowledge platform for the Indian MFI Industry and has played a key role in bringing the relevant stakeholders together with a common purpose of serving low-income households.

Its support has been instrumental in Greenlight's efforts to bring light to over 1 million households within the MFI network in the last one year of our association. As we aim to serve the 290 million households who still live in the dark, we look forward to continued support from MFIN and its members.

Customer Centricity: Core to Microfinance – A perspective by Grameen Credit Agricole Foundation

The value of customer oriented business practises are core to microfinance. This is one of the core objectives of GCAF also. As part of the The Social Performance Task Force (SPTF) meet in Tamil Nadu that was organised in February, around 200 plus participants discussed the same principle. The experience revolved around how case studies and practises should be applied to microfinance to conduct businesses that generate value for borrowers. GCAF in the meet strongly recommended that the best way to achieve dual goal of commercial success and financial inclusion is by creating customer centric business practises.

Access to finance certainly is a necessary condition to financial inclusion but is certainly not the only condition to guarantee a positive change to the life of the borrowers. This has to be supported by strong literacy and social changes. As crises of recent years in Bosnia, Morocco, Bolivia and in some states of India have shown that high growth and profitability are neither an indicator for improving clients quality of life, nor even for long term financial performance.

This is why the financial inclusion industry, through the coordination of SPTF, has jointly defined commonly accepted best practices to describe and evaluate the responsible provision of financial services: the Universal Standards (USSPM).

Since its inception in 2008, the Grameen Credit Agricole Foundation, in line with its mission to support and promote responsibility within the financial inclusion space, has cooperated in the development and since then supported and implemented the systematic evaluation and analysis of social performance along financial performance with all our partners. The Grameen Credit Agricole Foundation is an associate member of MFIN since 2017.

Since 2016, the Foundation performs an annual social performance portfolio evaluation, which allows measuring relative performances to the market and detecting areas for potential improvement and achievement of its annual action plan. Presented to management and Board, this analysis allows for monitoring the achievement of our mission. It is communicated externally to share learnings and practice (See the Foundation's and other SPI4 benchmarks at: http://www.cerise-spi4.org/#/benchmarking/

Our Work

MFIN works through four verticals namely

- Advocacy and Development
- Communications & Marketing
- Self-Regulatory Organisation
- State Initiatives

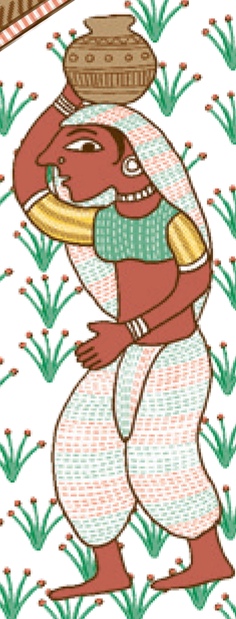
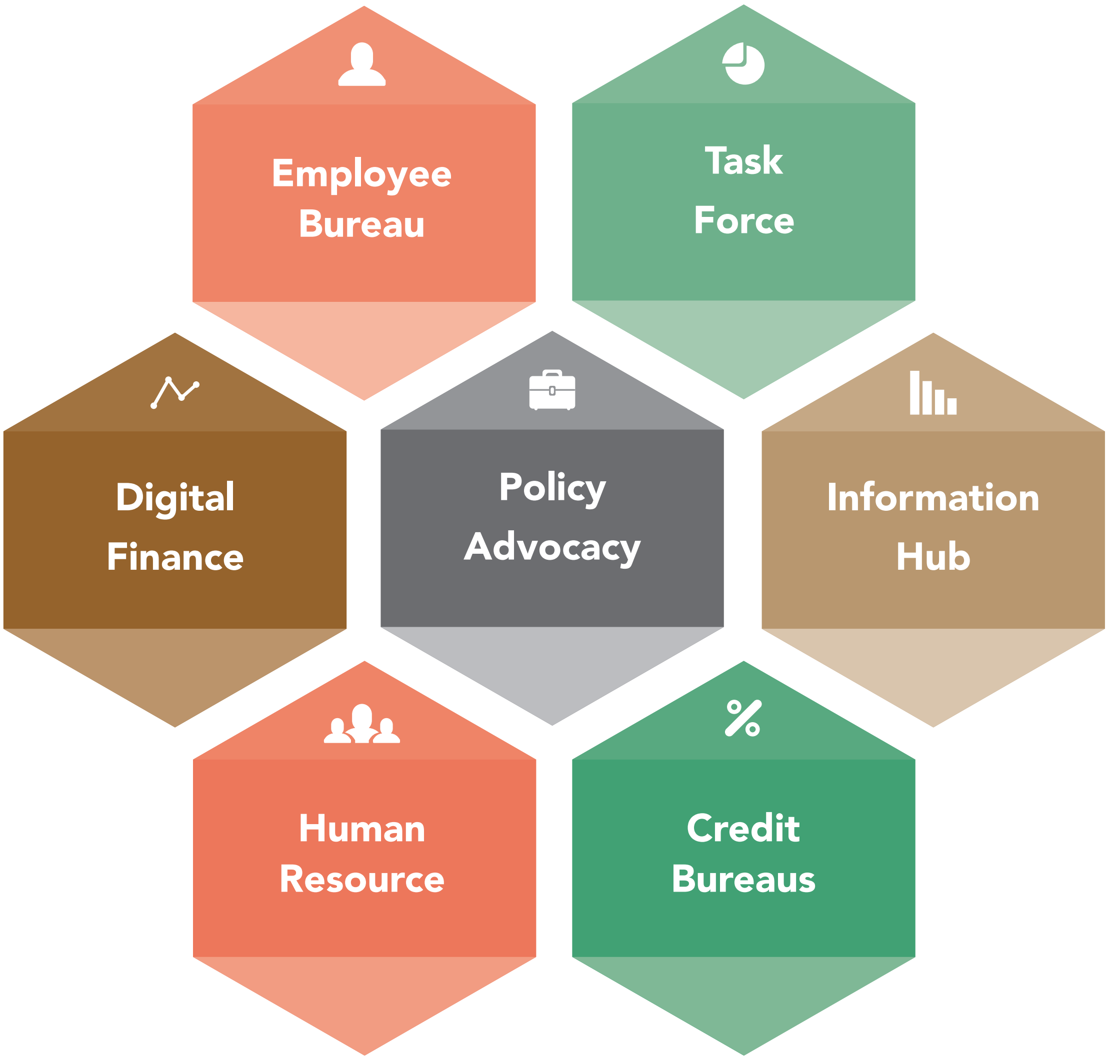
MFIN is organized into four verticals namely, Self-Regulation, Advocacy and Development, Communications and Marketing and State Initiatives to be able to focus on the priorities of the sector in an optimum manner. While previously policy advocacy was the primary focus and continues to be so, with the evolution of the sector there are various new functions that have become part of the framework. The Self-Regulatory function was part of RBI's remit to MFIN to help supervise compliance at a more granular level on behalf of the Regulator. With the sector coming back into its own over the last five years, there was a felt need for greater engagement with external stakeholders and a strong communication strategy was thought to be the way ahead. With the industry growing steadily ground level issues are often key indicators of sectoral good health. With this in view the State Initiative team keeps continuously engaging with industry issues at a field level to ensure smooth functioning.



Advocacy and Development Vertical



Policy Advocacy

MFIN engages with key stakeholders of the microfinance industry, specifically with the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), Ministry of Finance (MoF), MUDRA/SIDBI, UIDAI and the Ministry of Urban Development.

MFIN is also a part of various think tanks and discussion forums including the RBI's Financial Inclusion Advisory Committee, the MUDRA Board, the PSIG Think Tank and the ACCESS Assist Advisory Group.

Task Forces

MFIN has established a number of Task Forces for focused action on specific areas of activities that, from an overall industry standpoint, are deemed critical. The Task Forces comprise of representatives of member institutions who help drive specific initiatives with the support of the MFIN Secretariat.

The Advocacy & Development vertical woks with the Advocacy and the Credit Bureau Task Forces (TF). The Advocacy Task Force is responsible for engaging with the RBI, Central Government, State Governments, and other key stakeholders and decision makers. The Task Force holds regular dialogues with key policy makers to create a favourable operating environment for the Microfinance Industry. The Credit Bureau Task Force is responsible to develop the credit bureau eco system for the microfinance clients in the country.

Small MFIs Task Force: In the last couple of years, while funding to the industry has grown significantly, small MFIs still face challenges in accessing funds (both debt and equity). In this context, MFIN has established a small MFIs task force that addresses the challenges faced by small MFIs.

Information Hub

The information hub periodically publishes reports that provides trends and insights on the growth and status of the microfinance industry in India. These include:

Micrometer: Quarterly publication with trends on the key operational and financial indicators of the microfinance industry at a pan India and state level.

MicroScape: Annual publication that captures financial health of the microfinance industry.

MicroSpread: Annual publication that captures outreach, portfolio quality and credit depth at district level. This publication is currently only available to MFIN members and associates.

MicroMonitor: Monthly publication that captures Pan India/State/District level information on portfolio, disbursement and portfolio quality of MFIN members. This publication is currently only available to MFIN members and associates.

Credit Information Bureaus

Before 2010, the absence of comprehensive credit information was a key challenge in the development of the sector. MFIN members took the earliest steps in 2010 towards establishing a credit bureau which especially catered to the needs of this industry. MFIN facilitated the establishment of the first Credit Bureau for Microfinance clients (CRIF High Mark) aimed at improving credit risk management for MFIs.

Other mainstream Credit Bureaus, such as Equifax, CIBIL and Experian now also offer services/products to the microfinance sector. In addition to encouraging a larger number of MFIs to join the Credit Bureau initiative, MFIN monitors the credit bureau compliance across its membership. The credit bureau activities of MFIN aim at: broadening of coverage of the Credit Bureaus, raising awareness about the credit bureau, and improving the credit bureau data quality.

Human Resources

As part of its mandate to improve the eco-system of the industry, MFIN undertook many initiatives in the area of Human Resources such as:

- Workshop of HR Heads
- Compensation and Benefits Study with Aon Hewitt
- National Occupational Standards and Training Module for MFI Field Staff

Employee Bureau

The NBFC-MFI industry currently employs more than 82,000 employees. The Industry faces a lot of cross movement and most of the staff at the field level is let off without any proper action and documentation in case of negligence of duties or any other untoward behaviour and practice. The Industry also does not have any formal method of verifying references of new staff. MFIN along with Equifax created and launched an Employee Bureau that would be a database with non-financial information of employees. The database currently does not have negative reporting and is indented to provide comprehensive information from across levels of hierarchy of member MFIs to support their recruitment processes. As on date thirty-three institutions have signed up for the Employee Database.

Digital Finance

A project titled "Study on adoption of cash lite models among MFIs in India" was commissioned by MFIN which provides a compendium of different initiatives/experiments in Department of Financial Services which have been undertaken by MFIs. The study shows potential of using cash lite models. However, based on evaluation of these models, it is quite evident that despite many individual efforts, there hasn't been any concerted movement towards DFS frameworks. It is felt that there is a need to accelerate and scale-up DFS in micro-lending. MFIN along with HSBC is implementing a project that aims at finding an appropriate model to provide a basic standard of digital engagement to facilitate cashless disbursement and collections. In this project, incubation of two cost effective and scalable models for digital finance will be piloted that can lead to a positive customer experience and demonstration for wider adoption and use.

Communications and Marketing

MFIN's communication and marketing strategy has focused primarily on building a positive perception and image of the sector by engaging proactively with external stakeholders. This has included visioning and positioning efforts with relevant stakeholders and establishing MFIN as a knowledge hub. The vertical was established in the year 2014. It was with the understanding that the nature of the sector is so that it requires constant external stakeholder facing engagement.

Socialising MFIN and the Industry with the media

MFIN has systematically over the past year socialised with the media at the national, state and district level to build a positive and informed perception about the industry. MFIN regularly organises media interfaces across the country to socialise the sector with the press. This has resulted in the vernacular press publishing articles about the positive role that the sector is playing in providing access to finance to the vulnerable low-income populations. At the national level, MFIN has been engaging with leading financial dailies as a source of information and opinion on varied industry issues. In addition to this, the vertical supports the State Initiatives team in addressing perception issues faced by the NBFC-MFIs in the field.

MFIN has been associated with the two leading media channels NDTV and CNBC-TV 18 as an official spokesperson on the MFI sector. This has been done through panel discussions and interviews. The enhanced visibility of MFIN has resulted in the organisation being positioned as a thought leader of the sector. MFIN has also consistently engaged with the vernacular press to help build a positive perception around the sector at the field level. We have initiated placement of client centric stories at the state level. As a part of this initiative the first case study was shared by Svatantra Microfin on their Mediclaim Initiative. The story was carried out in leading publications of the state of Madhya Pradesh namely Dainik Bhaskar & Hari Bhoomi. Mediclaim as offered by Svatantra has conceptualised a unique technology led solution with help of an insurance provider wherein they offer tailor made low cost to entire family of 5, including parents, of rural household. It has successfully closed medical claims of more than INR 60 lakhs. MFIN's opinion on budget as well as RBI's policy directive was published in vernacular publications such as Dainik Bhaskar, Pudhari, Hindusthan etc. The vertical has been constantly engaging with the press to stem negative coverage and case in point was with two leading publications – Lokmat & Pudhari. The purpose of the meeting was to socialise both the papers about the sector. The editors were receptive and have assured the delegation that further news will be verified with MFIN before being published. MFIN also coordinated the media interactions for the Odisha State Association of Financial Inclusion Institutions launch event and that of the 10th year celebrations of AKMI. Media Activities carried out in 2017-18 :

- Total coverages generated - 892+ coverages with editions
- Publications covered - 139+ publications

Strengthening of Regional Networks through events and Public Relations

MFIN engages actively with forums and networks including SAMN, Banking with the Poor, Afghanistan Microfinance Association, African Microfinance Association etc. to promote exchange of knowledge and best practices. The annual flagship MFIN International Conclave is one such platform that has over the years brought together various practitioners, policy makers and relevant stakeholders to brainstorm policy issues and exchange best practices. As first of the series MFIN in association with the South Asia Microfinance Network (SAMN) organised a South Asia level Conclave in Delhi, India. The Conclave "Financial Inclusion to Sustainable Development: The Road Travelled" brought together participants from five South Asian countries of Pakistan, Afghanistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka.

The second edition of the International Conclave for the year 2017 Microfinance in Asia: A Mosaic focussed to bring practitioners and stakeholders to discuss and deliberate on key subjects such as regulations, governance, perception management, informing the microfinance sector across the world. It included participation from South Asian and South East Asian countries of Vietnam, Myanmar, Philippines, Indonesia, China, Cambodia, Russia, Bangladesh, Laos and Pakistan.

This year we constituted the first bespoke microfinance awards that was presented in the country titled "MFIN Microfinance Awards 2018: In Pursuit of Excellence!". Dun & Bradstreet was associated as a knowledge partner for organising the awards.

MFIN Associateship Programme

MFIN rolled out its Associateship programme in January 2014. This was done with the understanding that stakeholders other than NBFC-MFIs who have a lasting bearing on the financial inclusion dialogue and are of immense value to the sector need to interact and work with each other to fuel the larger goal of financial inclusion. The Associates are a valuable part of MFIN's construct and there is a constant dialogue with them at various forums including at the state and district levels. MFIN includes the following institutions in its Associateship programme – Banks, NBFCs, Housing Finance Companies, Insurance Companies, Business Correspondents, Private Equity, Social Investors, Think Tanks and Foundation. The Associates are invited to different platforms and are part of MFIN's construct with reference to advocacy and policy discussions with different stakeholders. As on date MFIN has 39 associates on board. In addition to the industry news and updates MFIN has introduced a calendar which captures the profile of MFIN Members and Associates as a part of social media platforms.

Communication Collaterals for visibility and knowledge dissemination

To stay relevant in the public eye, MFIN has been building on various communication collaterals. The corporate brochure was one of the collaterals that was released.

The proceedings of the event "Microfinance Awards 2018: In Pursuit of Excellence!" will be documented and a report will be published. To stay relevant within the public domain, MFIN consistently has been engaging with audiences over social media platforms through focussed activities. The objective of the activities is to create conversations and apprise about the banking and financial sector. As a part of this approach the key activities carried out are as follows :

- Industry /Sector News & Updates across platforms on day to day basis.
- Highlights of Micrometer with the parameters defined.
- Overview of the microfinance industry with relevant posts.
- One of the key activities introduced this year was customised posts about MFIN Members & Associates on a weekly basis. Below is the highlight observed over social media platforms
- Facebook followers/likes - The average before focussed activities was at 45 whereas the average post campaign has been recorded at 80.8 with an increase of 79.56% (Total No. of followers 17190).
- Twitter Followers - The average before focussed activities was at 19 whereas the average post campaign has been recorded at 31.2 with an increase of 64.21% (Total No. of followers 1650).
- There has been an increase of 7.58 in the tweet impressions

Self - Regulatory Organization

Since inception MFIN has been constituted as a Self-Regulatory Organization and its Bye-Laws and Memorandum of Association (MoA) has its foremost objectives to:

- Act as the Self-regulatory organization for the microfinance sector and to regulate the business of microfinance as carried out by its members.
- Create, develop, distribute and publicise, sound development, operational and financial practices and minimum thresholds of performance for its members and to encourage other persons engaged in the microfinance sector to adhere to and comply with such practices and thresholds.

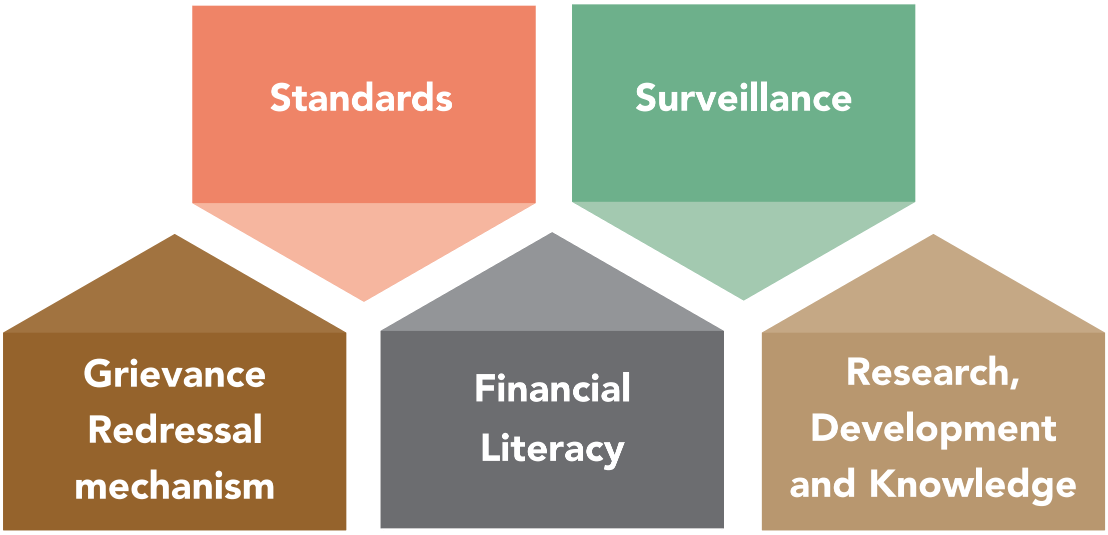
Post Andhra Pradesh crisis in 2010, a high-level committee known as Malegam Committee was formed by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to thoroughly examine the issues of the microfinance sector. This Committee advocated the role of industry association as a Self-Regulatory Organization (SRO) as the compliance system of NBFC-MFIs[1].

Most of recommendations of the Malegam Committee were taken on board by the RBI in Dec 2011[2]. RBI introduced a new category of NBFCs, named NBFC-MFIs, with detailed directions on gamut of things including definition of NBFC-MFIs, prudential norms, pricing of credit and customer protection measures including multiple-lending and over-lending. The Directions also stated that separate guidelines will be issued on the role of industry associations in the overall monitoring of the microfinance sector. Detailed guidelines for the recognition as SRO came in Nov 2013[3], following which MFIN became the first industry association to be accorded the SRO recognition by the RBI in June 2014.

As an SRO of the RBI regulated NBFC-MFIs, MFIN has been instrumental in supporting and implementing an effective framework for responsible lending and client protection for the industry. In the changing supply-side landscape with Financial Institutions (FIs) other than NBFC-MFIs providing micro-credit, MFIN has broadened its ambit to support other FIs to adhere to the industry Code of Conduct (CoC) and Directives/ Advisories to ensure responsible lending.

As SRO, the priority is to ensure interest and welfare of the clients as they engage with the NBFC-MFIs. As per the mandate given by the RBI, MFIN's self-regulation work is broadly structured around five aspects. The details on each work mandate is given as below:

1 https://rbidocs.rbi.org.in/rdocs/PublicationReport/Pdfs/YHMR190111.pdf
2 https://www.rbi.org.in/scripts/BS_ViewMasCirculardetails.aspx?id=9827
3 https://rbi.org.in/scripts/BS_PressReleaseDisplay.aspx?prid=30052



Standards

Under its SRO mandate, MFIN formulates the Industry Code of Conduct (CoC) and continuously sets up industry standards across different areas to ensure responsible lending in an evolving industry. Adherence to Industry CoC and MFIN Standards (Directions and Advisories) is mandatory for the membership of MFIN.

Surveillance

In exercising its role as a self-regulator for the industry, MFIN ensures that NBFC-MFIs comply with RBI Directions, Fair Practices Code, Industry CoC and other MFIN Directives/Advisories. For this purpose, MFIN has a comprehensive surveillance mechanism based on information/ data from member NBFC-MFIs, peer monitoring, field level investigations through third party agencies/own staff and Credit Bureaus among others. Cases of non-compliances are addressed by an Enforcement Committee. Some of the key surveillance tools used by the SRO are:

Industry Compliance Index

The Industry Compliance Index is a bi-annual self-assessment tool which all member NBFC-MFIs use to draw up a compliance and performance score card focusing on client interface. It collectively assesses members' business principles, policies and practices. It is a tool to help individual NBFC-MFIs to systematically measure, manage and integrate responsible business practices through gap analysis, benchmarking and tracking.

Self-Reported Data

Based on the requirement, SRO captures periodic and adhoc data from member NBFC-MFIs. For example, data is collected on insurance claim settlements and client grievance redressal (client complaints to NBFC-MFIs) to monitor that NBFC-MFIs have robust framework to deal with them.

Credit Bureau

MFIN takes extensive data from the Credit Bureau to understand emerging risks and non-compliances such as over/multiple lending, KYC seeding etc.

Third Party Evaluation

MFIN has put in place a comprehensive external evaluation mechanism which validates the members compliance with various RBI Directions and Industry CoC etc. MFIN has empanelled independent agencies to conduct Third Party Evaluations.

Grievance Redressal

At an industry level, there is a 3-layered Grievance Framework as under:

- Level 1: MFI is the first level where client can approach for the resolution of complaint. If the client is not satisfied with the resolution provided, she can approach MFIN.
- Level 2: At the second level is MFIN Client Helpline, which receives the client complaints un-resolved by the NBFC-MFI to her satisfaction.
- Level 3: As final authority, client can call the RBI (DNBS) for the resolution of complaint.

Following its SRO mandate from the RBI for Industry-level Client Grievance Redressal, MFIN launched a Toll-Free Client Grievance Redressal Helpline 18002700317 in July 2015. The objective of the grievance resolution mechanism is to provide an escalation mechanism to the clients to address the grievances unresolved by NBFC-MFIs and to understand systemic client grievance issues emerging and address them.

In last couple of years, there has been a gradual progress. There is a higher degree of awareness amongst clients and NBFC-MFIs about the mechanism leading to higher complaint volume. There is also a better capacity to handle/address the complaints and analyse them to identity the systemic client grievance issue within an area or a NBFC-MFI.

In the event of clients reaching out to MFIN, the SRO facilitates communication of client complaints to the concerned NBFC-MFI and tracks its resolution. In case the complaint is not resolved to the satisfaction of the client within the stipulated Turn Around Time (TAT), MFIN's Enforcement Committee steps in to resolve the issue and directs the concerned NBFC-MFI to resolve the issue. Lack of compliance can lead to the NBFC-MFI being penalised by the Enforcement Committee of MFIN.

Financial Literacy

Financial education is the most critical component of client protection as it provides client information, understanding and knowledge to make informed financial decisions. SRO has been taking several initiatives across using different means towards this:

Awareness of Credit Bureaus: Collateral has been developed for the customers to educate them about credit bureaus and how this impacts their ability to access credit from formal financial institutions. Under this project, training of trainers (ToT) were also conducted for staff of member NBFC-MFIs staff so that customer training component for credit bureaus can be integrated with their training program for the customers.

Research, Development & Knowledge

Focusing on SRO aspect, research/development work is undertaken to understand systemic industry level issues/needs, capture good practices and ways to address them. In recent past, research have been undertaken on credit bureau ecosystem, grievance redressal framework, multiple lending, geographic concentration etc. Training and workshops are also organized for the NBFC-MFIs on various aspects of compliances and customer engagement.

Governance

To guide, steer, oversee and support the SRO work, there is strong governance framework through two committees as under:

Enforcement Committee (EC):

The Enforcement Committee is constituted for proper enforcement of the Code of Conduct and exercising oversight adherence to regulatory norms prescribed by the RBI/Government/any other regulatory authority by the member NBFC-MFIs. The role of the EC is to primarily handle issues of non-compliances and grievances arising from clients requiring redressal. State Initiatives

To strengthen the field level engagement and its information flow, MFIN has formed state chapters and district forums across the country considering that member organizations operations are within the states and districts. The states & districts chapters are working as a representative body of MFIN. All the states where member MFIs are operating are covered either through MFIN Chapters or through composite chapter of two or more states. Similarly, district forums and composite district forums have been set up based on the geographical presence of NBFC-MFIs.

Each State chapter has identified its coordination committee members. The coordination committee facilitates coordination and smooth functioning of the state chapter. The committee members are identified by all the members and it functions for three years. The members are identified on the basis of their state presence and their outreach within the state. The committee guides, monitors the state & district chapters' agenda in consultation with other operative members.

Each district forum has a lead MFI, responsible for the district level coordination among the member MFIs. The lead coordinator designated by the lead MFI is responsible for coordinating and facilitating the district forum meetings at his office as per the frequency decided by the state chapter. Mostly it is quarterly in every chapter. The meeting minutes of the same are prepared in the approved format of MFIN and are shared with MFIN regional representatives. District meetings have a standard agenda to follow in addition to any other agenda as per the contextual requirement.

The MFIN regional representative closely works with State Coordination Committee and District Lead Coordinators. All the minutes of the district forums are consolidated and shared by the MFIN regional representative in every quarter at the State Chapter Meeting.

Jan Dhan is the world's largest financial inclusion programme. The Government has always aimed to bring economic policies keeping in mind economically weaker sections

MFIs face set-back due to demonetisation, despite 26% growth

Loan for Salaried People

Chennai: Micro-finance institutions, which largely cater to lower-income and below-poverty-line (BPL) families, saw a sharp drop in loan repayments in the third quarter of 2016-17 due to demonetisation.

MFIs, which normally have NPA ratios below 1%, saw their non-performing loans shoot up. "Portfolio at risk has increased to 14% from under 1% in previous quarters. This abnormal increase is due to lower recoveries post-demonetisation; the shortage of cash has had an adverse impact on income and livelihoods of lower-income households," said MFIN Micrometer, the industry body's annual report.

खुशी की बात है कि मुद्रा योजना में 76% कर्ज महिलाओं को दिया है। इस योजना में 3 लाख करोड़ के नए कर्ज बांटने का लक्ष्य है। इससे महिला उद्यमियों को प्रोत्साहन मिलेगा।
